

The Chair of Indology and the Würzburg Centre for Modern India announce:

Prof. Dr. Janaki Nair

Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi (India)

“Gender, Law and State In Colonial/Postcolonial India”

This course will introduce students to the links between religion, state and law in the Indian subcontinent specifically focused on transformations of gender relations. Readings and lectures will be focused on the history of the gendered legal subject beginning with the colonial period (approximately 1800-1947) and how that history has left its traces on the contemporary legal status of women (1947 to present).

Classes: May 20 - June 30, 2011

First Class : Friday 20.05.2011 2-5 p.m.

Further classes : 23./27./30.05.2011, 03./06./10./20.06.2011

Fridays 2.00-5.00 p.m. & Mondays 9.00-12.00 a.m.

Registration: perathiba.mohanathas1@uni-wuerzburg.de

For more information please visit
www.indologie.uni-wuerzburg.de/aktuelles/