

Invitation to the 5th networking event "Education for Sustainable Development (ESD) in Teaching and Study"

Think Tank "Creating Teaching for Sustainability Together"

Dear colleagues, teaching staff, students and all members of JMU,

Our last networking event took place in May 2023. Since then, a lot has changed at JMU concerning education for sustainable development. Sustainability as a teaching topic has been embedded into the new university contract, and the quality objectives and the mission statement for teaching are being revised. These changes offer us an ideal window of opportunity to be part of the process which is being initiated right now.

Therefore, we invite you to the networking event "Education for Sustainable Development (ESD) in Teaching and Study" on the topic of Think Tank "Creating Teaching for Sustainability Together". We want to exchange ideas and further develop higher education for sustainable development at our university.

All teaching staff, students, and other members of JMU, as well as all people interested in higher education for sustainable development, are invited because all stakeholders at JMU shape sustainable higher education together.

When?

February 1st, 2024
5 p.m. until approx. 7 p.m.

Program on page 2
The event will take place in German.

Where?

Lecture Hall & Foyer of the Graduate School
on Campus Hubland Nord
(Beatrice-Edgell-Weg 21)

More details on the program, as well as announcements, are available in the WueCampus course rooms:
