

Environmental Humanities

International Online Symposium

Climate | Changes | Global Perspectives

August 2-13, 2021

Prof. Heather Houser

University of Texas at Austin, USA

Entanglements of Environmental Art and Knowledge

Monday, August 2nd, 5-6:30pm

Prof. Catriona Sandilands

York University, CA

&

Prof. Susan Morrison

Texas State University, USA

Story into Theory, Theory into Story

Monday, August 9th, 3-5:00pm

In the spirit of the Environmental Humanities, which foster not only interdisciplinarity, but also an international character in research, the Challenges of Modernity Summer Symposium calls together different perspectives in order to question standardized patterns of representing and understanding environmental crisis. This two-week long exploration open to PhDs and Advanced Masters students from around the world will be anchored by keynotes from scholars whose work exemplifies the intersection of creative and critical scholarship at the vanguard of new representational form(at)s.

The emergent Environmental Humanities class of the Graduate School of Humanities is delighted to welcome the public to these keynote conversations. Please register via eh@uni-wuerzburg.de. The readings and the Zoom link will be sent to you after registration.

This symposium is part of "WueGlobal - Writing, Learning, Digital Connection" funded by the International Virtual Collaboration Program (IVAC) / Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst (DAAD) / Bundesministerium für Bildung und Forschung (BMBF). Participation can be applied to the WueGlobal certificate. Please visit <https://go.uni-wue.de/618w2> to learn more.