

THE FUTURE OF PUBLISHING

Is Peer-Review Out of Fashion?

OPEN DISCUSSION

February 12th, 2019

5 pm

GSLs building

Beatrice-Edgell-Weg 21,
Am Hubland, 97074 Würzburg

Please use the following link to let us know you are attending:

<https://gsls.opencampus.net/node/18642>

The landscape of biomedical publishing is changing dramatically: DEAL, Coalition S, open access, bioRxiv and predatory journals are affecting how we publish and how we make funding decisions. Yet, the scientific community needs to maintain high quality. As publications can be seen as our currency, how can we organize and preserve scientific knowledge in the digital future?

We would like to invite you to a discussion of these issues on February 12th, 2019 at 5 pm in the GSLs building.

After a short overview of the current publishing landscape by Prof. Jörg Vogel, it is your turn to discuss with our expert panel: Amy Beisel (Wiley), Max Voegler (Elsevier), Prof. Werner Müller-Esterl (former president of Frankfurt University), Bernd Pulverer (EMBO press), Prof. Konrad Förstner (University of Cologne) and Apoorva Baluapuri (students' representative). The discussion will be hosted by Stan Gorski (IMIB Würzburg).

We look forward to welcoming you to this exciting event!